MISHICOT, A PLACE OF SHELTER THEN AND NOW . . .

You are in for a treat as you travel to Mishicot, passing through midwestern countryside with rolling green fields, golden grain shimmering in the breeze, corn standing tall row after row, and the serene farm homesteads surrounded by the ever present cows. This charming Northeastern Wisconsin village, with a population of 1503, is surrounded by fertile cropland.

Mishicot is an Indian name meaning a place of shelter.

Dotting the horizon are the glistening tops of numerous silos used for crop storage. Big city stress will disappear as you witness the quiet of a country morning . . . the sun peeking over the horizon, a bit of dew on your shoes and a breath of fresh country air. Your youngsters will marvel at the huge farm machines working the fields providing food for all.

Mishicot is an Indian name meaning a place of shelter. To remind us that there indeed were Indians - authentic Indian arrowheads have been dug up in the area attesting to the presence of the Ottawa Indians many moons ago.

It was in 1844 when a pioneer named Daniel Smith erected a saw mill in the Town of Mishicot. Soon thereafter, many pioneer settlers, farmers, businessmen and prospectors from Germany, Bohemia, Canada and New York were attracted to the area, and in 1847, Mishicot became a prosperous village. With the beautiful East Twin River winding through the village, it was a perfect site for three hotels, two general stores, a hardware and tinware store, harness, boot and shoe shops, a grist mill and a brewery. A place of shelter . . . it was indeed.

Today, located within the village is the 250 room beautiful Fox Hills Resort and Convention Center along with 12 existing condominiums attracting people of all ages. Fox Hills boasts of 45 holes of golf with the 18 hole championship course fashioned after the famous St. Andrew's in Scotland, will be completed. A place of shelter . . . it is indeed.

Rose's Century Inn has been a part of Mishicot for many years, as the name indicates. High school proms, basketball games and graduations were held in the Opera House, as it was formerly known. Cindy Bremser, 1984 Olympian and world-class athlete, is the daughter of the present day owners. As part of the Badger State Games, Mishicot participates in the Torch Runs. Cindy's father, Frank, has been Torch Run Coordinator, and in 1986 Mishicot received an Outstanding Community Participation Award.

History repeats itself, because it was in this same building that an ice cream parlor flourished years ago. During the summer months, we now have The Dairy Bar noted for its ice cream products.

To add to the pleasure of your visit will be an opportunity to shop and browse at The Old School. Yes, it really was the Experience the uniqueness of a small village . . . feel at home.

elementary and high school that many Mishicot residents attended before it was renovated. It is now a complex of shops, galleries and boutiques.

River Edge Galleries is a must on your list of things to do. This antique shop and art gallery also served another type of business in days gone by. It was a Main Street butcher shop. Nostalgia abounds in the marble counters, ornate tin ceilings and the beautiful hardwood floors and woodwork. There is no admission fee.

Cars, with a boat trailer in tow, are a common sight. Lake Michigan is just 5 miles to the east and it is true, your chances of catching a 25 pound king salmon are very good. Fisherman, take heed, there are many inland lakes and trout streams where you can do more than dream about 10 pound lake trout. Charter boats are available.

Take a stroll down Main Street Mishicot, stop to admire the beautiful flower planters, and why don't you visit the many business entities we are so proud of? We have ties to the past and are willing to share stories from "the good old days." Experience the uniqueness of a small village . . . feel at home. We like it here, hope you do too.

GREEN ACRES

Back 25 years ago Green Acres was just a roadside vegetable market supplied by one small greenhouse. Today Green Acres hosts one of the finest lawn and garden centers in this area of the state. A large retail store that supplies flowers, bedding plants, nursery stock and an unusually large selection of concrete lawn ornaments, plus all of your lawn and garden supplies has been added.

Green Acres is presently owned by Tom and Sandy Haese, who at this time extend an invitation to all to stop out and enjoy a relaxing stroll through our greenhouses and unique retail store.

THE OLD SCHOOL will "take you back"

The big handsome square schoolhouse on the hill built in 1905 saw many Mishicot youngsters pass through its doors until 1978, then was destined for demolition when Lyle and Carole Anderson

"... the old school has shops of all kinds tucked into every corner on three floors."

bought it eight years ago and turned it into "The Old School", which presently has shops of all kinds tucked into every corner on three floors.

A "working craft shop", which started out with five shops and 14 consignment craftsmen contributing to its wares, its shops presently accept works of 450 artisans. Prominent among them are the Andersons' Norman Rockwell Center, containing one of the world's largest collections of Rockwell works, the Frances Hook Museum focusing on the famous children's artist, the Home Room with consignment crafts, and the Svoboda Clock Shop.

ANDERCRAFT WOODS

Andercraft Woods in Mishicot started out as a hobby for manual arts teacher

"... a small woodworking shop grew into an industry whose products are sold throughout the United States and other countries."

Lyle Anderson, whose small woodworking shop grew into an industry whose products are sold throughout the United States and other countries.

Anderson's unique Nativity stable designs are in world-wide distribution.

Andercraft Woods also focused on bird feeders and bird houses, still one of their major manufacturing items.

The Andersons are now embarking on a new expansion of their operation, "Christmas Lane," which will extend the factory shop back into the old barn which was their original shop, and up into a loft, providing a year-round site for what they say will be the largest line of Christmas nativity scenes in the Midwest from some only a few inches to life-size figurines. Even before "Christmas Lane" is completed, a visit to Andercraft Woods at Mishicot is a treat.

MISHICOT LIONS

Enrichment of a community is often the result of an uncelebrated select few who have dedicated themselves to serve without regard to monetary reward. Our village is ranked among the more fortunate with the unselfish devotion of the members of the Mishicot Lions Club.

The leading social event in the district is the Lions Junior Fair, held each third weekend of August these past 40 years. Said to be one of the last surviving community fairs in the nation, a visit to this festival is a Mark Twain type journey back to a time when life was serene and occupational stress and personal anxiety were topics restricted to the realm of academia.

Improving the quality of life in our community is a goal of the Lions by funding projects such as prevention of the spread of drugs among our youth, scholarship, purchase of equipment and score boards for our local schools, continuous additions and improvements to the village park as well as the cheerful and sparkling decorations and lights ornamenting Main Street during the Christmas season. These are but a few in a long and ever expanding series of accomplishments resulting in Mishicot being a good place to live, an excellent place to rear children and an outstanding place to do business.

SNOWMOBILING

Winter snow enthusiasts can enjoy snowmobiling in the area. There is a marked trail through the village and you can connect with the state trail network. Trails are maintained for good snowmobiling. Area snowmobile clubs encourage you to obey the snowmobile laws, respect the rights of private property owners and above all, ride safely on the trails.

SCHOOL DISTRICT OF MISHICOT

The School District of Mishicot was created in its present form through a series of reorganizations during the 1950's and early 1960's. Students entered the present high school in September of 1958. In 1965 the elementary school opened its doors to students in grades 1-8. Kindergarten students were still housed for a time in the original Mishicot school building. Eventually the kindergarten was moved to the new elementary building and the original building was sold. It now houses "The Old School", which has been developed into a series of shops which provide an interesting diversion for visitors to our community.

Growth in student population and program changes for high school students encouraged the district to complete an addition to the high school in 1975. The addition consisted primarily of laboratory space for vocational programs, art, advanced science, library and a second gymnasium. The size of the high school was approximately doubled to its present 101,000 square feet.

The district is located in northwest Manitowoc County just north of Two Rivers, split approximately in half by State Highway 147. It is made up of the Villages of Mishicot and Francis Creek; all of the towns of Gibson and Mishicot; and part of the towns of Two Creeks, Two Rivers, Kossuth and Cooperstown. The district is approximately 103 square miles.

At the present time the district serves

SVOBODA INDUSTRIES

Is backed by a tradition of over 100 years of artistry in wood crafts. It is the home of the largest Grandfather clock in the world, the trademark of the factory and outlet store in Kewaunee, on Hwys. 42 and 29, north city limits. This clock is over 35 feet tall and chimes the Westminster, St. Michael or Whittington Chimes every fifteen minutes. Beginning in 1883, the emphasis was on church and institutional furniture. Over the years church furniture has given way to other wood products.

Today the line has expanded to offer gift items from Christmas ornaments, wooden music boxes, wood carvings, candle holders, shelving and more.

Svoboda offers an outstanding array of masterfully built Grandfather and Grandmother floor clocks as well as wall, shelf and mantel clocks, wooden furniture and gifts to bring enrichment and beauty into 957 students with a K-6 enrollment of 485 housed in the O.H. Schultz Elementary School and a 7-12 enrollment of 499 housed in the high school.

The district's facilities are up to date and well-maintained. Except for some discussion regarding the possible addition of a swimming pool and auditorium, present facilities should be adequate for programs and projected enrollments through the next ten years.

Both the original high school and the elementary school are paid for. The last payment on the high school addition will be made in 1995. Current long-term debt for the district is $312,624. Since the district has a current equalized value in excess of $134,000,000, the district is in sound financial condition. Its long-term debt capacity stands at $13.4 million.

The district's academic program is strong and is "tuned in" to the needs of its students. The elementary school provides a strong classroom reading program supported by two full time reading teachers and an instructional aide. There is a transitional kindergarten program for students having difficulty adjusting to the regular program. A strong K-6 developmental guidance program supports regular classroom instruction. In addition, all students receive the services of certified teachers in art, music, library and physical education.

A relatively new program has been de-homes everywhere. Expertly finished and intricately detailed these pieces are the heirlooms of the future! All created by this multi-talented industry. Visit the manufacturing outlet in Kewaunee or the outlet in Mishicot, Wisconsin.

CEDAR HOLLOW

"Over the hills and through the woods," in a small clearing you will find the Cedar Hollow Log Cabin Boutique. Located only six miles north of Mishicot on Highway

"... One of the most quaint and extraordinary gift shops of the area."

163, Cedar Hollow is an authentic log cabin owned by Mary Ann and Donald veloped for middle school (grades 7 and 8) students housed in the high school. Along with basic courses, all students are required to take introductory classes in home economics, industrial arts, foreign language, computers, careers and study skills. Elective programs are available in music, art and agriculture. In addition, a tutorial program has been established in which "at-risk" students can receive individual instruction.

The academic program in the high school is traditional but offers a wide range of opportunities for students in the arts, preparation for college or technical school, and in vocational preparation.

Traditionally students graduating from the Mishicot school system have been highly regarded by employment personnel in the county. Those who have gone on to advanced education have found that the district's programs have adequately prepared them for academic success.

Many factors contribute to the success of our school system. Perhaps the most important is that the school enjoys strong support from the people in our community.

Mishicot is a good place to learn — a good place to live — and a good place to visit!

Fine Dining Overlooking The Falls

These Falls were created by the construction of a dam approximately a century ago for the purpose of producing water power. This water power operated a sawmill, flour mill and feed mill. The mills were owned and operated by Joseph Holly and family, a native of Shoto.

In June of 1949 a disastrous fire destroyed all three mills.

In 1954 Eugene F. Holly (a son) started

Shoto Woodworking Co. in a small building (36' x 50') which was built on parts of the remaining foundations of the old mills.

The main products then were custom kitchen cabinets and wood component parts for the music industry.

The continuous growth of this company has led to six building expansions to the present 37,000 sq. feet facility. The firm was incorporated as Shoto Fixture and Supply, Inc. in 1968 and is now known nationally for their excellence in design and their quality craftsmanship of their fixture line. Shoto Fixture is truly a leader in the field of designing and manufacturing tavern, restaurant and bank fixtures, along with a complete line of plastic laminated component parts for office and restaurant industries.

In 1983 the Holly family started the River Falls Supper Club project. The West Twin River was dredged and widened. Near the Falls, an old tavern and dance hall on this property had to be demolished, two homes and a storage building were removed to make ample parking available. This project was completed in March, 1984 and opened for business the following month of April. While relaxing with a cocktail in the Waterwheel Lounge you will enjoy the unique movement of the 8 foot diameter waterwheel or the unusual outdoor scenic setting created by a 22 foot mirrored wall.

The Club offers elegant dining in a pleasant atmosphere overlooking the Falls of the West Twin River. The Falls are highlighted at night with special effects lighting.

River Falls Supper Club is open seven days a week and will be an experience long remembered.

ICE AGE TRAIL

During the Ice Age, some 15,000 years ago, most of northern North America lay under the grip of colossal ice sheets. The effects of the advancing and retreating glaciers can be seen in the headlands of Cape Cod, the Finger Lakes of New York, and the hills of Michigan, but nowhere is the glacier's work upon the land more impressive than in Wisconsin.

" . . . lakes, ponds, forested hills, ridges and gently rolling farmlands remind us of the glacier's visit."

Wisconsin's legacy from the glaciers and meltwater streams of the Ice Age is a landscape of great diversity and beauty. The State's many lakes and ponds, forested hills and ridges, and gently rolling farmlands remind us of the glacier's visit and beckon us to come, explore and enjoy!

In 1950, the late Ray Zillmer of Milwaukee envisioned a 1000 mile trail, similar to the Appalachian Trail, through Wisconsin. He proposed that an Ice Age Glacier National Forest Park be established along the entire length, marking the furthest advances of the last glacier in Wisconsin.

Approximately 160 miles have been certified thus far and another 180 miles are open to travel by foot for hiking and backpacking. While the entire trail is being developed, some patience is needed in seeking camping facilities.

This trail leads into Mishicot and we anticipate many visitors in the coming years. Users should be especially careful to respect the rights of private property owners who have allowed the trail to cross their land. Follow the markers and stay on the trail for another great experience.

WOODLAND DUNES

Take a Woodsy Walk, Learn About Nature.

Woodland Dunes Nature Center, located just west of Two Rivers on Highway 310, is an exciting place where two areas of natural growth meet, and both northern and southern species of birds and plants are found. Guides are available for walks through wetlands on regular trails which bring you closer to all the little creatures.

The "Marsh Haus" is a museum of the geological history of this part of Wisconsin, also a display of the animal and plant life. They have a staff that will direct you to the trails, where boardwalks take you into the area.

" . . . an exciting place where two areas of natural growth meet."

Some of the fascinating things are: over 100 species of nesting birds each year, blooming wild orchids, spring, summer and fall, Canadian carpet plants. Stopover on major bird migration route, clean wood-chip trails, cross country skiing in winter. Variety of demonstrations also available.

Here lies a precious unspoiled, natural legacy to be enjoyed now, and to be preserved for the future. If you love the great outdoors don't forget to visit the Woodland Dunes.

The second floor Fine Arts Gallery features changing exhibitions by leading Wisconsin and national artists such as Aaron Bohrod, Guido Brink, Patrick Farrell, Curt Frankenstein, JoAnna Poehlmann and Leslie Vansen.

A FAMILY AFFAIR

"You won't believe it!" George Krause commented when asked how he got into the food store business.

"The more we did our food shopping, the more we saw a market out there, for customers like us."

The switch was a gamble. George did not have a food business background. But his experience in selling and servicing appliances was a tremendous asset. So was the fact he already knew how to run a business.

The business outgrew the original building. So in 1971, George purchased a lot across the street and put up a new store, which is at the current Main Street site.

George and Joan Krause have eleven children, some of whom work in the family business. Jon Krause is manager of the bakery. George, Jr., is general manager for both stores, as well as head buyer. Gary is in produce, Glenn takes care of deliveries to the Denmark Store, Jodi is in the meat department. Jerilyn, a part-time checker and George, Sr., is closest to the catering side of the business and is involved in overall administrative responsibilities.

The main store now employs a total of thirty-five people, and the satellite store in Denmark has fifteen employees.

MEAT MARKET

We also have a full service meat counter featuring all of your choice steaks, chops and roast needs.

Custom cut wrap and freeze meats for your freezer. Krauses also has ho-made sausage and wieners.

BAKERY ADDED IN 1971

"After about a year and a half we built an addition to the supermarket so bakery production could be done on site. When it was ready, we moved the sales area so it is immediately to your right as you enter the store.

A full-time bakery, Krause's is mostly a scratch baking operation. The best seller list according to product line is: Breads, cookies, sweet rolls, kolaches and cakes.

" . . . we serve food the way the customer wants it."

CATERING AND READY-TO-EAT MEAL ITEMS ON THE UPSWING

The store does a lot of hot/cold deli catering out of the bakery. "While many people just want to buy the food and serve it themselves, we will also serve the food if the customer wants it. We cater complete meals for parties, weddings, fund raisers and other special events.

"We are starting a new venture - a pancake franchise through Chris Cakes. It's good for the entire state of Wisconsin. This concept is just great for fundraising events — organizations can offer people something for their money.

"In addition to operating a full-fledged deli, we use our bakery ovens to bake ready-to-eat turkeys for Thanksgiving, hams packed in rye dough for Easter, roast lambs and spanferkel.

A SECOND STORE

By 1976, the business had grown to the point where Krause's opened a second store in Denmark, Wisconsin which is known as Krause's Town and Country. It is also a full-fledged supermarket, and has a cold spot bakery. Product from the Mishicot shop is trucked in daily.

CHALLENGES

"When you are in business, you have to be constantly alert to what is happening around you. Changing with the times is the name of the game."

FOX HILLS STORY

Fox Hills, the gateway to Door County, is one of the biggest attractions in Mis-hicot.

In May of 1964, the public country club and 18 hole golf course was originally built. At this time the country club was under the ownership of Florenz Baugniet, a local milk farmer. Because of the success of the country club and golf course, an additional 9 holes were added in 1970. When the need arose for motel facilities, 56 guest rooms were constructed along with an indoor swimming pool, sauna and whirlpool.

Between 1973 and 1978, the remaining rooms were added bringing the total of guest rooms to 160. Also, at this time the Golf Pro Shop went into operation with a large retail shop.

Now owned by Ronald Likas, Millie and Terry Schimmel, Fox Hills expanded in 1984 by adding a 2.5 million dollar convention center. Also, a new Health Club/Spa with a list of services from massages, spa, manicures, hair styling, suntanning beds, and much more went into function. This and the outdoor pool proved attractive facilities for all the guests at Fox Hills.

The latest enterprises at the spreading resort are firstly, the condominium development and secondly, the new 18 hole championship golf course.

Presently, there are 12 condominiums completed, 24 units are used for the RCI program and the rest for rental. Also in the works are yet more vacation units, a recreation center with indoor and outdoor pools, and residential condominiums.

In addition to the Original Classic 27 holes of golf will be another 18 holes that will make up the National course. This more challenging course will open in 1987. After the grand opening, Fox Hills will feature the largest golf complex in the midwest.

Along with Fox Hills pools, golf, tennis courts, riding stable and own charter fishing boat, the resort employs a full-time Activities Director who sets up year round group activities for all guests.

The ambition of the owners of Fox Hills Resort and Convention Center is to make it a successful year round resort, attractive to vacationers and businesses seeking a site for serious conferences.

Fox Hills is an exciting place to be!

POINT BEACH IS WILDERNESS WITH CONVENIENCE

Point Beach State Forest includes more than 2,800 acres of forest lands bordered on the east by some six miles of sand-ridged beach on Lake Michigan.

The forest offers all of the natural beauty and assets of the wilderness combined with the convenience of nearby urban facilities to meet any needs.

... Acres of forest, miles of beach within easy reach of services.

The sandy shore of Lake Michigan is, of course, a major attraction for forest visitors. It is a fascinating place to walk, look, and indulge in some aimless beachcombing. It also offers fishing as well as swimming, although there is no designated beach area and no lifeguards are provided.

MILWAUKEE

FOUR SEASONS AT CAMP TAPAWINGO

HISTORY & AVAILABILITY

Camp TaPaWingo was established in 1963 by the Manitowoc County 4-H Leaders' Association, Inc. with the objective of offering 4-H clubs a place to learn about the natural environment. Since then, the camp has opened its doors to not only 4-H clubs, but any organized group, such as:

- Church and Confirmation groups
- School groups
- Reunions
- Company picnics
- Special education groups
- Big Brothers/Big Sisters
- Family gatherings
- Retarded citizens groups
- Boy-Girl Scouts
- Senior citizens
- Exercise classes
- Natural science workshops

The camp is open year-round and welcomes new groups. The staff will be happy to assist all groups to any phase of planning and programming.

FACILITIES

Camp TaPaWingo is set on 78 beautiful acres of Wisconsin's scenic northeast. The East Twin River meanders through the camp property setting apart a beautiful wooded area from the more developed section of camp. Rensink Lodge is the center of much of the activity at camp. The lower level houses the two winterized dorms, with a total overnight capacity for 80 people. Upstairs is the large dining hall and kitchen. The dining hall also serves as a meeting room, dance hall, and indoor recreation area. The huge fireplace adds a warm and comfortable atmosphere to the lodge during the colder months.

Just down the road from the lodge is Buchholz Nature Center. Here students and visitors can learn about the natural environment through displays and projects. During the winter, the nature center becomes a ski chalet. The camp has cross-country ski packages there for the winter ski program.

Twelve cabins line TaPaWingo Creek on the east side of camp. Just beyond these are an obstacle course, tennis/basketball courts, a softball diamond and the Wagner Memorial building which serves as an arts and crafts center.

LOCATION

Camp TaPaWingo is located three miles north of Mishicot, Wisconsin, just off Highway 163 on TaPaWingo Road.

WINTER

Cross-country skiers enjoy over 3 miles of scenic ski trails and can rent ski packages right at camp. Tobogganing, inner-tubing and ice-skating add to the winter fun. Afterwards friends old and new can gather in the lodge and warm up by the huge fireplace. Overnight lodging and food service are available for larger groups.

SPRING & SUMMER

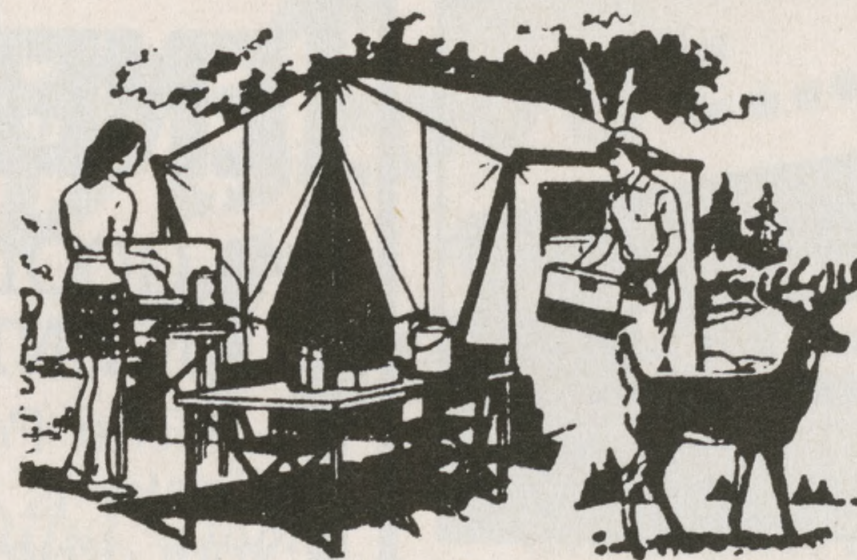

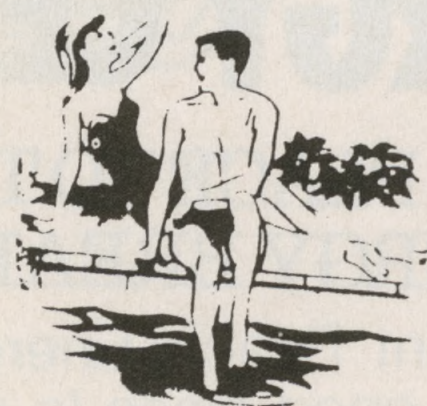

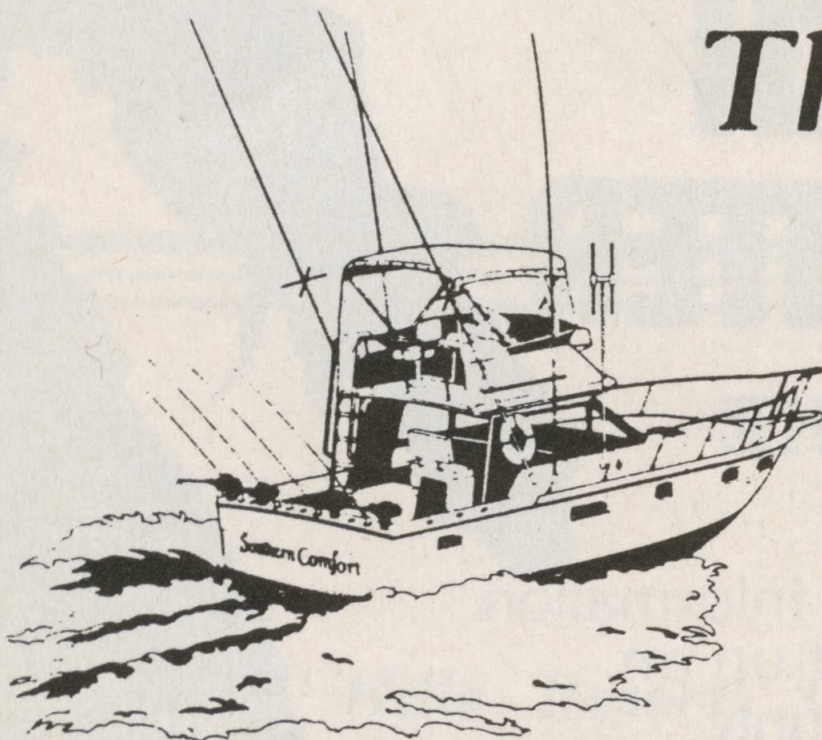

Summertime brings warmer weather and campers galore! Summer camp at Camp TaPaWingo is open to all kids, 7-18 years of age. Two to five day resident camps allow youngsters a camp experience that meets their individual needs and desires.

FALL

Colorful leaves, golden prairie grasses, and cool weather highlight the autumn season at camp.

Many church and retreat groups find the peaceful solitude they need for special programs in Camp TaPaWingos beautiful setting.

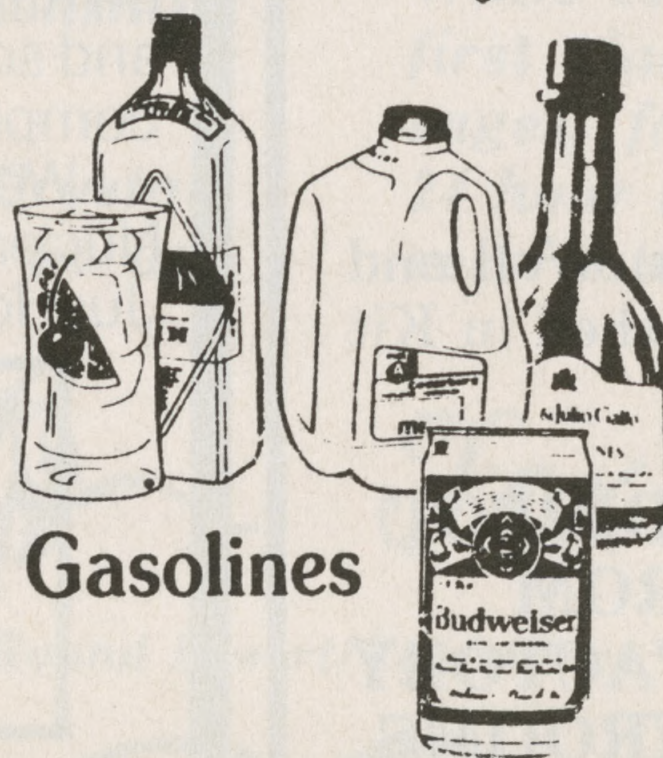

Then with the last fallen leaf, the cycle begins again with another FOUR SEASONS OF ACTIVITIES FOR YOU at Camp TaPaWingo!

SOMETHING IS HAPPENING... MAGIC

In Mishicot you hear people talk about MAGIC. This village is being promoted by a volunteer organization called MAGIC for short. It is the Mishicot Area Growth and Improvement Committee and its goals are to identify, maintain and enhance the existing assets of the Mishicot area, as well as to promote further development which will invite you to visit Mishicot.

Opportunity exists for new business in this fast growing resort village. Industry would also find this to be an ideal location with a hard working populace available nearby for employment.

Our location near Interstate 43 and only 10 minutes from an airport, makes it very convenient for visitors, from within and outside Wisconsin, particularly Chicago, Racine, Kenosha, Milwaukee, Minneapolis, the Fox Valley and Green Bay.

Point Beach State Park, whose 3,000 acres of wooded Lake Michigan shoreline provide for camping, hiking and picnics and over 10 miles of cross-country ski trails is only 6 miles away.

Manitowoc County has 17 inland lakes, many with picnic facilities and boat ramps, as are Maribel Caves Park, Devil's River Campground, Woodland Dunes and Collins Marsh nature centers.

In just a few minutes you can be at the Point Beach Nuclear Plant Information Center with its colorful display and hands-on demonstrations introducing visitors to nuclear energy.

There are other interesting attractions 15 to 20 minutes away — Pinecrest Historical Village recreates a historic rural village. The new Manitowoc Maritime Museum can give you a complete history of shipbuilding. You can also tour a submarine. The Rahr-West Museum is a historic mansion and art gallery worthy of your visit. Going north on 163, you can visit The Log Cabin, a quaint little shop of crafts.

When you return next year, MAGIC may have something new for you to see and do.
